PROGRAM: Business Meeting. Mayor Bell got up to speak. He is running for Birmingham mayor again this summer. Specifically, Mayor Bell says that crime needs to be addressed in the city. The homicide rate is far too high, and Mayor Bell made the case that he is the person best-equipped to address it. Clayton Dorough has ammo, so call him if you need some. Johnny Self requested for his Birmingham city taxes to be lowered. Joseph Habshey shot a hole-in-one. Interest rates are going up, but it's not too late to refinance. If you do refi your home, call Ben Blackerby for title insurance to help with the closing. Dean Ledbetter mentioned that the tax filing deadline has been extended to May 17th, but quarterly estimates are still due at the normal April 15th deadline. Andy Evans is looking for connections to high-end builders. So many new, affluent homes are being built currently, and it is a great opportunity for Andy and Audio/Video Excellence.
